

CCTV SYSTEMS

Bars Training Australia can now offer the latest in digital surveillance and CCTV systems. Digital recording is user friendly and a low cost PC-based system, and can be designed from 1 to a maximum of 64 cameras.

This system enables you to remotely patrol your premises from any place at any time as long as you have the access to the telephone line or network. This system allows you to simultaneously record, playback and archive images from all cameras in your existing CCTV system

All systems are installed and maintained by a fully licensed security organisation that is Australian owned and operated, with public liability cover and transit insurance.

These systems are currently securing such clients as Surfside Bus Lines, McDonalds Family Restaurants, Hungry Jacks Family Restaurants, Subway Franchises, Regent Taxis, Duty Free Shopping, along with a large clientele list of high-rise, business, residential and many commercial properties.

Fees for Service

A quote will be provided detailing the product and service required. We can put together a package which suits your individual or corporate needs and will not proceed without the appropriate level of approval in writing.

On-line enquiries can be made through our website.
